How is the qualification assessed?

To achieve this qualification learners are required to be found Competent in 12 units of competency. The following methods are used to gather evidence of competence:

NDA training course

- NDA offers training courses that align to some units of competency. Assessment activities completed during these training courses can lead to competency in the aligned unit.

Activities

- Learners are provided with workbook resource material for each of their self-paced study units in the qualification. The final section of each unit is an activity. If you choose to complete this form of assessment, all activities should be completed and returned to your assessor.

Questions and answers

- If you choose to complete this form of assessment all questions and answers should be completed and returned to your assessor.

Project or workplace evidence

- The projects are designed for the unit of competency. These are generic projects and may not correlate to the learner's industry. Alternatively, appropriate workplace evidence can be provided for assessment. Workplace evidence must be relevant to the unit of competency requirements.

Supervisor/assessor/third party report

- This report allows the learner's supervisor to comment on the skills they have observed the learner demonstrate. These observable skills should align to the requirements of the unit of competency. If the learner doesn't have a supervisor, then the assessor or a third party can perform this task.

RPL portfolio

- Learners can submit a portfolio of recognition of prior learning (RPL) evidence to the assessor for assessment relevant to the unit of competency.

The training plan completed upon induction outlines the training and assessment methods for each unit of competency. It also outlines the units to be assessed via an assessment visit with you, your supervisor and your NDA assessor. Assessment visits were normally spaced between 3-4 month intervals. Your assessment co-ordinator will arrange a date, time and place for your assessment visit.
